

Contributors

Ko Jae-nam

Professor at the Institute of Foreign Affairs and National Security, Ministry of Foreign Affairs and Trade. Ph.D. in Political Science from the University of Missouri-Columbia in 1990. He has written numerous research papers and books on Russian politics and foreign policy that include: Anatomy of Ethnic Conflicts in the Former Soviet Republics; "Prospects of the Mid- and Long-Term development of Russian Federation"; and "Russian Foreign Policy Toward North Korea: Evaluation and Prospects."

Yun Duk-min

Professor, Institute of Foreign Affairs and National Security; visiting professor at Keio University; and Member of the Policy Board Advisory Board for Unification Ministry, National Defense Ministry and National Security Council. Educated at Hankyong University of Foreign Studies (B.A. in Political Science), University of Wisconsin-Madison (M.A. in International Politics), and Keio University (Ph.D. in Political Science). Yun has specialized in the ROK-U.S. alliance, Northeast Asian security, and North Korea's weapons of mass destruction.

Lim Yang-Taek

Professor in the Department of Economics and Finance, Hanyang University, he graduated from Korea University, with a Ph.D. in economics from Georgia State University. Specializing in technological economics, industrial economics, and public finance, he has authored 35 books and written various articles in major journals. His recent works include: "Liberalization and Process of Korean Capital Market," and "A Development Strategy for Industrial/Technological Cooperation between Korea, China and Japan and their FT."

Chung Tai-Uk

Professor at Yeungnam University. He has a Ph.D. in Legal Philosophy from Seoul National University. He authored Politics and Law, and wrote "Michael Walzer's Theory of Just War on the Question of Preemptive Strikes," and "Observations of the Problem of North Korea's Human Rights."

Park Suhk-sam

Senior economist at the Bank of Korea. He received his master's degree in economics from Korea University and studied economics at the University of Texas at Austin. His recent articles are "Studies of North Korean private economy"; "Financial System of North Korea: Today and Tomorrow"; and "North Korean Economy in Transition: Assessment and Future Tasks of the First year of Kim Jong-il Styled Economic Reform."

Chi Bong-do

A research fellow at the Institute for North Korean Studies, Myongji University. Educated at Myongji University, where he received his B.A., M.A. and Ph.D. in international law. Dr. Chi's major area of concern is the inter-Korean legal system. He has recently written "Legal Principles of South-North Peace Treaty," and "Inter-Korean Legal Cooperation for Peaceful Utilization of the Border Area."